Hitch Stories

Endangered Species

Over the past 3 years, Lake County Tribal Leaders from multiple tribes worked with youth in obtaining Hitch Stories from elders to create a digital storytelling. Hitch Stories, an aminated StoryMap documenting Pomo histories, cultures, and traditions at Xabatin can be viewed at this link: https://arcg.is/0iby4m0.

This project had many layers. In collaboration, HPUL & Robinson Education & EPA Directors provided field trips to Middle Creek & Clear Lake, organized an Intergenerational Knowledge Summit, and supported youth in interviewing & downloading stories.

The StoryMap is featured in the California Native American Studies Model Curriculum (it is slated to be included in this unit on food sovereignty) and it is being considered for inclusion in the Lake County K-12 curriculum alongside the Xabatin: Big Science unit. The story will remain live in perpetuity.
